Art Unit: 1794

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leach (5,612,074, cols. 3-4) as set forth in paragraph no. 2, Paper No. 20080808.

Further, finding the optimum amount of each component in applicant's composition would require nothing more than routine experimentation by one reasonably skilled in this art.

3. Applicant's arguments filed November 12, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's contention that Leach fails to disclose the type of soy used is without merit since Leach clearly suggests the use of soy protein (col. 3, lines 7-11). In the absence of unexpected results it would have been obvious to use any particular type of soy protein material, including textured soy protein (a conventional form thereof), simply depending upon availability, personal preference and consumer appeal. Applicant's argument, that the claimed invention is not a sweet product, is not commensurate in scope with the claimed composition since applicant's claims do not preclude the inclusion of sugar, syrup or any other sweetener therein. Further, applicant's product is not limited to a cooked product despite applicant's suggestion to the contrary.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
